

April 2021: business account, shared costs and proposed lease

Prepared October 13, 2026 (Pacific). Companion cover plus retained I7 source selection.

This short source access improvement supports a point already in the financial history: the venture discussed a business checking account, shared mortgage/utilities and the need for a lease. It avoids requiring readers to open a large compilation.

Preserve all five adjacent selected messages, including Annie's lease/rental sentence and proposed debit-card/reimbursement arrangement. The record supports contemplated coordination, not proof of all transfers, an absence of a lease, or a legally fixed ownership share.

The appended page is a source-derived transcription with working interpretation, not a platform screenshot, complete thread or independently certified translation. Its source JSON hash and timestamps are carried from the I7 derivative; the original JSON was not independently reauthenticated in this pass.

Reader route: examine this selected exchange with the financial history and its source qualifications.

I5-N | April 23, 2021: business account, cost sharing and proposed lease

Five adjacent selected text entries from supplied native Facebook JSON. This is a retypeset derivative, not a platform screenshot or certification. Sender aliases are normalized to Romeo, Annie and Jun. Pacific timestamps are derived from epoch milliseconds. Original language and surrounding lease sentence remain. No attachments or complete-thread claim is made.

Romeo | 2021-04-23T21:53:35.775000-07:00

messages[6668] | epoch 1619240015775 | source SHA-256
426c3be505190d236a67d20ce7e8a2f7d4a9e5aeccc57b21409d42b800d81dd6

Save this. Mao ni ato business checking account. I will provide cashflow statement monthly from the accountant for everyone. If nahan mo access online, just let me know. This is where we send the $1750 for the half sa mortgage plus the utilities until we start making money.

Jun | 2021-04-23T21:54:05.986000-07:00

messages[6667] | epoch 1619240045986 | source SHA-256
426c3be505190d236a67d20ce7e8a2f7d4a9e5aeccc57b21409d42b800d81dd6

yay! thanks uncle

Annie | 2021-04-23T21:54:20.453000-07:00

messages[6666] | epoch 1619240060453 | source SHA-256
426c3be505190d236a67d20ce7e8a2f7d4a9e5aeccc57b21409d42b800d81dd6

We have to make lease/rental agreement na

Jun | 2021-04-23T21:54:20.951000-07:00

messages[6665] | epoch 1619240060951 | source SHA-256
426c3be505190d236a67d20ce7e8a2f7d4a9e5aeccc57b21409d42b800d81dd6

sure! amo ni i save cge2x ingna lang mi unsaon

Annie | 2021-04-23T21:56:23.085000-07:00

messages[6664] | epoch 1619240183085 | source SHA-256
426c3be505190d236a67d20ce7e8a2f7d4a9e5aeccc57b21409d42b800d81dd6

It would be great if naa tay debit card ani tanan or per couple kay para if naa tay paliton for the house we can use it. But since wala paman tay profit ato lang ulian

Working interpretation, not a certified translation: Romeo identifies the business checking account, offers monthly cash-flow statements and online access, and says it will send $1,750 for half the mortgage plus utilities until the venture earns money. Jun thanks him and says they will save it and follow instructions. Annie says a lease/rental agreement is needed and suggests shared debit-card access with reimbursement while there is no profit. This supports a contemplated operating structure, not proof of every payment, a fixed ownership percentage or the absence of a lease.